May 2012

Australia – May 19th & 20th, 2012 – Warwick International raceway – Guy Tingey and his boys do it again!! RPM KnK finish ahead of Nexus KnK and MF-Teck KnK. All three teams on the 588th lap, which speaks volumes for team and kart consistency.

Another great result for KnK karts!! What an exciting weekend of racing, KnK Dominator TEs swept the floor with an impressive 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 7th in the 9 hour Endurance Race at the Warwick International Raceway, in Australia.

KnK also walked away with the “Hard Charger” and the “Best Presented Kart” Awards.

The KnK Dominator TE has won every round of this Prokart Championship this year.

Guy Tingey (fourth from right), importer of KnK Karts to Australia has been working at achieving these results since 2010 when he began test racing the Dominator in the form of the Evo model.

Here is what Guy had to say after the race - We have a heap of fun in between all the "Drama's" that emerge at race tracks and when we win with our KnK karts the boys sure know how to celebrate and let all the other Big Brand Teams know that they just got "beaten" by the "Little Team from India", which always causes great satisfaction on the part of the KnK boys and myself!!!!

These guys are very, very passionate about their KnK karts !!!!!

I couldn't ask for a better group of guys to be involved with - really is very rewarding.

The Championship is currently led by MF-Teck *KnK, with Nexus *KnK in second place, 4th place is occupied by RPM KnK and the KnK Tigers have the 5th place. KnK are well represented with 4 KnK Teams in the top five placings.

Team RPM KnK now have their new KnK Dominator TE and have found awesome pace with it after retiring their prototype Dominator Sprint of pre 2008 vintage.

Prokart Tamworth on June 10 and 11 is what Guy's Boys are focusing on at the moment for the 24 hour endurance at the Tamworth Circuit.

On the expected grid of 23 teams four KnK Teams will compete - Team Nexus KnK, Team MF-Tech KnK, Team RPM Rock Oils KnK and Team KnK Tigers. This 24 hour endurance has never been won by a Queensland Team and their aim this year is clearly looking to change this.

NatSKA England - In other news Sarah Howard has been finding winning pace in her 2005 vintage KnK Trakhawk, which she bought used. Sarah has shown the grid of almost 24 drivers the way to the top step on the podium in the recent two NatSKA meets. Some new 2012 KnK karts will be on their way to the English tracks very soon and we are keen to see how Sarah reacts to the current models.

The way that the Natska races work is slightly different to club racing, rather than one final to determine the winner the final standings are determined on the race results throughout the day.

There are 4 races and your best three are counted. Sarah finished the day with two 1st places one 2nd place and a 3rd in the second NatSKA.

Talk soon.
